

Faculty Guidelines for Accessibility Services

Instructors are asked to read and familiarize themselves with the information.

Disability Services

Grayson College's Disability Services is administered through the Success Center to provide services and accommodations to students with disabilities, assist in the development of reasonable accommodations for students, and to provide equal access for "otherwise qualified" individuals with disabilities.

Who Qualifies?

- A student who has a physical or mental impairment which substantially limits one or more major life activities
- A student who meets academic and technical standards requisite to admission or participation in the educational program or activity

Qualifying for Services

Requests for accommodations are submitted to Disability Services at the beginning of each semester. Students must provide supporting documentation of a disability at the time the initial requests are submitted. Intake interviews with students are conducted after documentation is reviewed. Eligible students requesting services at the beginning of each semester are issued accommodation approval forms to distribute to their instructors.

Confidentiality

Disability documentation is confidential between the student and Disability Services unless the student chooses to reveal it. Any explicit or implicit reference to a particular student and the disability is inappropriate.

Instructors are encouraged to contact Disability Services for additional information on specific disabilities and appropriate accommodations.
